Durango® is a washable, saturated paper offered in various calipers and colors designed for hardwearing applications like jeans labels, reusable totes, book covers, luggage tags and more.

Offered in a unique rustic texture, once washed the paper can crinkle and soften to create a weathered look with varying degrees of visual and textural interest depending on how the material is wrung, crinkled, and dried.

Durango®, is certified according to Oeko-Tex® Standard 100*, an industry benchmark for safety in textile products that have contact with skin. Manufactured without the use of animal leather, the major component of Durango® is cellulose fiber, a renewable resource that is harvested from responsibly managed forests.
